Againſt PROFANE SWEARING.

Becauſe of SWEARING, the Land mourneth.

THIS was a complaint which the Prophet Jeremiah brought againſt the Jews, in his days; and it may with equal reaſon be revived againſt thoſe called Chriſtians in ours. Who can paſs along our ſtreets, without meeting with many manifeſt proofs of this melancholy truth? from wretches, who, as if in avowed defiance to the power of the ALMIGHTY, belch forth horrid OATHS and imprecations, and, with the moſt daring preſumption, audaciouſly devote themſelves, and each other, to eternal damnation, to the great diſhonour of reaſon, religion, and the Chriſtian name. And ſo far and wide is this dreadful contagion ſpread in the land, that both in town and country, not only men and women, but (by their execrable examples) infants are infected with it; and however innocent in their meaning, ſo corrupt are their manners, that they are aiming at Oaths, almoſt as ſoon as they can ſpeak, and liſping out Curſes one againſt another: What ear is it that can hear this, but muſt be terrified at it? What heart that can feel, but muſt be deeply wounded by it? except the hardened and abandoned wretch, who with his tongue is polluted enough to practiſe it: Or how can the virtuous magiſtrate, armed as he is with power, know theſe things, and yet want a will to puniſh ſo open an inſult on his authority? An inſult ſo impious to God, ſo injurious, ſo deſtructive to man?

Magiſtrates are appointed for the puniſhment of evil-doers, and for the praiſe of them that do well; it is therefore reſpectfully recommended, that they would cloſely conſider, if they are negligent in diſcharging this important truſt committed to them, how far they can be clear in the ſight of GOD; or claim from man that honour, which is due only to thoſe that bear not the ſword in vain.

Peterſburg, Aug. 16.

BY ſeveral letters from our army under Prince Dolgoroucki, we learn, that they have found at Baluclawa great quantities of timber proper for ſhip-building. The port belonging to that place is very capacious and ſafe. Our fleet from Aſoph is in the Caffa, which has ſtruck terror into the inhabitants of Conſtantinople.

Cracow, Aug. 18. Col. Drewitz demanded yeſterday from our city a ſum of money, which was to be reimburſed from Warſaw. Our chief magiſtrate excuſing himſelf, and declaring it would be impoſſible to find ſo much; they this day began, by compulſion, to collect it from the preſidents and counſellors of this place, nor are the canons, convents, or the moſt diſtinguiſhed perſons exempted.

Leghorn, Aug. 21. The approach of part of the Ruſſian fleet towards Raguſa has thrown ſuch a conſternation over the Inhabitants, that they are buſy in ſending away their moveables, and ſeveral of them have buried their money, to prevent its falling into the hands of the Ruſſians.

Menhaim. Aug. 31. As there has appeared an article in different Gazettes, dated from the Hague the 20th of Auguſt laſt, mentioning, that our Elector had opened a ſubſcription for a loan of 700,000 florins, to be mortgaged on his Marquiſate of Bergen-opzoom, and that Mr. Boaz, an eminent Banker, was charged with this commiſſion; it is neceſſary to acquaint the public, that the ſaid Gazettes have been very ill informed, as this their report is all invention, and void of all truth.

Cologn, Sept 6. The court of Vienna, far from diſcontinuing their warlike preparations, ſeems to be augmenting them, as they are now raiſing 3000 recruits, and have lately given orders for 40,000 Swordblades, &c. from Solingen.

Paris, Sept. 6. Letters from Breſt adviſe, that they have received orders to arm ſix frigates, which are to be commanded by M. de Courcy.

L O N D O N,

Sept. 17. Our illuſtrious Queen ſets a glorious example to her court, by wearing, on public occaſions, ſilks of the manufacture of this country.

We are told that Edward the third when he arrived at years of diſcretion ſhook off his fetters.—Does not every Prince act thus when he arrives at years of diſcretion.

The new Biſhop of Litchfield, it ſeems, has been enthroned by Proxy.—'Tis pity, ſays a correſpondent, that ſo many Biſhops do their duty by Proxy.

It has been obſerved that the French King, an old man, is governed by a young woman; while the K——of———, a young man, is governed by an old woman.

It is ſaid that the Engliſh Merchants in Liſbon are obliged to pay an Opera company for entertainment of the Portugueſe.--Will Engliſh ſpirits bear ſuch an inſult as this?

The Ruſſian fleet in the Levant is divided into four Squadrons; one under the command of Mr. Greigh, cruiſes near Smyrna and Scio; Admiral Spiridoff commands the ſecond, near Micone and Paros; the third cruiſes between Cape St. Ange and Cerigo, under the command of Admiral Arff; and the fourth is between Tenedos and Meteline, commanded by Mr. Brettenzow.

We hear an action will be commenced againſt ſome gentlemen of Boſton, in New-England, the factious leaders in oppoſition to government, to recover damage on account of a malicious proſecution againſt Mr. Edward Manwaring, an officer of the Cuſtoms there, and a ſtrenuous ſupporter of Adminiſtration, who was cruelly harraſſed and try'd for murder on the affair of Capt. Preſton.

It is ſaid Lord Clive is again to go to India; but whether with a view to the good of the India Company, or to retrieve his fortune or health, we cannot ſay; but it is certain ſuch a propoſal in an India Court of Proprietors will meet with a violent oppoſition.

We hear that Mademoiſelle Clairon, the celebrated French actreſs, is juſt put into priſon, on account of ſome diſreſpectful words ſhe let drop againſt the government. This Lady has been addicted to a flightineſs for ſome time, very near bordering on inſanity.

Some time ſince the Lord Mayor after dinner at the manſion houſe, propoſed to Mr. Townſend, Mr. Sawbridge, Mr. Wilkes, and other gentlemen who were then preſent, a ſcheme for increaſing the allowance given by the city to the Lord Mayor. Mr. Wilkes warmly ſupported the ſcheme. So far all was natural. The Lord Mayor intended once more to ſerve that Office. Mr. Wilkes's Mayoralty was yet to come. They talked like men of the world, and regarded their own Intereſt with a more favourable Eye then the Intereſt of the public. The ſame temptation preſented itſelf to Mr. Townſend and Mr. Sawbridge. The patriots Croſby and Wilkes, fully expected their concurrence. They were miſtaken. Mr. Townſend and Mr. Sawbridge warmly oppoſed the meaſure, and being well ſatisfied that the preſent allowance was ample and ſufficient, refuſed to concur in a ſcheme dictated by avarice, and which muſt end in infamy.

We are informed that at a meeting of the clergy and gentlemen of the profeſſions of law and phyſic, to be held at the Feather Tavern in the Strand on the 25th day of this month, from eleven to three, a petition to Parliament for relief from ſubſcription to the articles, &c. will be ſubmitted to the Judgment of the gentlemen then preſent, and immediately circulated through the different counties for ſigning.

Sep. 23. A report prevails at the weſt end off the Tower, that Spain had, by a new treaty, guarantied to France all her ſettlements in new Orleans on the American continent for ever.

Some grave perſons ſeem to aſſert, that the affair between Britain and Dudley is all a ſolemn farce, a rediculous ſcene of miniſterial mummery; the former's jaunting about with a meſſenger, nothing but mere parade to ſave appearances, and permitting him to publiſh on purpoſe to lay a foundation for a freſh attack on the liberty of the preſs, which is to be begun the next ſeſſions under the direction of Cocking George.

Sept. 24. The Miniſtry, 'tis ſaid, are determined to take no farther notice of the vagabonds who have lately made the diſturbance about the fire at Portſmouth; being fully convinced, by indiſputable proofs, that they are the poor engines of a diſappointed faction, who meant to ſet the nation in a flame as well as the dock. Some very conſequential advances have been made towards a diſcovery of thoſe greater villains, who have prevailed upon the poor confined wretches to proſtitute themſelves to their wicked purpoſes. If they are detected, they will be made a proper example of, to deter others from employing themſelves in buſineſs of ſo infamous a nature.

Colonel Barre, we are well informed, is ſufficiently provided with ammunition for the enſuing campaign at Weſtminſter; but as he got moſt of it in Spain, the miniſtry have ſuch an averſion to ſtand Spaniſh ſhot, that they are now employing proper agents to bring him over to a truce, and to take his ammunition from him at what price he ſhall propoſe. We ſtate this as a caution to the Colonel to be upon his guard; for if he ſtands battle, he will have an opportunity of immortalizing his name to a degree, that will eclipſe the fame even of the great Duke of Marlborough, for he only vanquiſhed foreign foes, but Barre has it in his power to extirpate theſe vermin, whoſe nature is to ſting us to death.

By a gentleman who is juſt arrived from St. Maloes we learn, that the French have a fleet of ſhips lying there, ready to put to ſea as ſoon as they have taken in proviſions and other neceſſaries; he further ſays, that a regiment of ſoldiers lay there ready to embark on board ſaid fleet, but that he could not learn where they were bound to, for he dare not aſk any queſtions leſt he ſhould be taken up as a ſpy, as they ſeemed very jealous of him, and glad that he was going to leave the place.

At a very numerous meeting of the Livery yeſterday evening at the Half-moon tavern, Cheapſide, deputy Cockſege in the chair, the buſineſs of the meeting was proceeded upon: the preſent Lord Mayor was put in nomination, and had a great majority of hands in his favour; then followed Meſſrs. Alderman Bridgen, Trecothick, Townſend, Sawbridge, Banks, Peers, Naſh, Halifax, Shakeſpear, Eſdale and Kennet. Mr. Alderman Townſend had a pretty ſhew of hands, as that gentleman is in ſome eſteem with the Livery, and it is not doubted but he will make a good chief magiſtrate in a future time, but the majority of the company was greatly in favour of the preſent Lord Mayor and Mr. Alderman Sawbridge, to be returned to the court of Alderman for their choice of Lord Mayor for the year enſuing. Several ſpirited motions were made in favour of the conſtitution, which was almoſt unanimouſly agreed to, and before the company broke up they agreed to ſupport their country's cauſe againſt any miniſterial Aldermen, and all their inefficacious threats.

It is reported, that the King of Pruſſia has lately ſent a memorial to the court of Madrid, requiring a categorical anſwer as to the great warlike preparations making in the Spaniſh dominions; and whether his moſt Catholic Majeſty intends to oppoſe the treaty now on foot for putting an end to the deſtructive war between the Turks and Ruſſians.

The ſhip to be launched at Deptford was laid on the ſtocks in the late Premier's reign, after whom ſhe was named. Another will be begun immediately, and to be finiſhed with the greateſt expedition. Great attention is now paid to the repair of the ſhipping in the ſeveral dock-yards, as well as to the building of new ones. Whether any thing is the immediate object of this attention is at preſent a ſecret.

Sept. 24. We can now with ſome authority aſſure the public, that the Parliament will not meet till after Chriſtmas.

We are informed, that a few days ago, the Earl of Rochford had a long conference with the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, in reference to the great naval armaments now making in all the ports of that kingdom, in times of profound peace, who aſſured his Lordſhip, that the King his maſter had no intention of committing acts of hoſtility againſt any Chriſtian Power whatſoever, and that their chief intention was, to chaſtiſe the piratical ſtates of Barbary, who had lately made ſeveral capital prizes on the Spaniſh coaſt.

Extract of a letter from Rome, Auguſt 31.

"The Chevalier de St. George, I told you in my laſt, was at Piſa; from thence he moved to Sienna, another town likewiſe in the Tuſcan ſtate, where he uſed every morning to take an airing in his coach, attended by ſome gentlemen, ſervants, &c. Being out one morning, as uſual, he got ſuddenly out of his coach, bid two favourite ſervants follow him, and the reſt to return to Sienna; he had a private carriage in waiting, and went on directly two or three poſts, the names of the towns I have forgot: From one of thoſe places he wrote to the gentlemen, his attendants, at Sienna, ordering them to return with all ſpeed to Rome; this letter was brought by one of the ſervants he took with him, who, when aſked where his maſter was, anſwered, he knew nothing of him. They all accordingly came back to Rome directly; and as ſoon as they arrived waited upon Cardinal York, who, it is ſaid, did not ſeem in the leaſt ſurpriſed at the news. We abound here in variety of conjectures about this event; ſome ſay he is gone to Berlin, others to Moſcow, and others to Vienna."

Extract of a letter from Portſmouth, Sept. 22.

"One of our great docks is completed, and his Majeſty's ſhip Terrible is now in the dock under repair; the other dock will be finiſhed in a little time.

"We are going to make two more ſhips on the new ground, and when finiſhed to lay the keels of two ſhips of the line; we ſhall then be able to put nine ſhips of the line on the ſtocks at a time.

"On Saturday a large party of marines ſat off from this port for Ireland, in order to recruit in the country."

The efforts of the miniſtry to influence the elections of the city having been ſo diſgracefully unſucceſsful, we are, told, that a deprivation of office is threatened, where any placemen interpoſe to defeat the wiſhes of the Court, and accumulate the obloquy of government.

Adminiſtration now ſees that its own intereſt makes an interpoſition in the elections of the Livery highly improper; the independency of the citizens is therefore likely to be regarded from policy, little ſoever as our great ones may be deſirous of preſerving it from inclination.

The people of England talk highly of their ſacred rights and liberties:—The Romans did the ſame when they were in an actual State of Slavery.

The Miniſtry now begin to be aware that all the meaſures they have hitherto taken, in order to bring over the minority to act in conjunction with them, will be ineffectual; on this account their truſty emiſſaries are now diſpatched into different parts of the country to inliſt, upon any terms, —— of —— to ſupport them the enſuing campaign.

So great is the diſtreſſes and apprehenſions of the miniſterial leaders at preſent, that they are in continual expectation of numbers of their gang deſerting them.

Extract of a letter from Calcutta, Feb. 25, 1771.

"This is a moſt raſcally climate; figure to yourſelf a number of dead human carcaſes lying without ceremony, in the public ſtreets, occaſioned by a famine of rice. It is computed that 30,000 inhabitants of Calcutta alone have died within theſe few months."

Sept. 26. A memorial of a moſt important nature, it is ſaid, was preſented a few days ago to his M——y by the Commander of a ſhip from Leghorn, the ſubject of which is hitherto moſt carefully concealed.

The Premier appears to be loſing ground in the favour of a Great Perſonage, as it is very remarkable that he is ſeldom now conſulted upon any buſineſs.

Notwithſtanding what has been ſaid to the contrary, yet it is very certain that the Grand Defaulter's ſon is frequently in private conference with a Great Perſonage.

S A L E M, Nov. 19.

On Thurſday laſt ſentence of death was pronounced on Bryan Sheehen, in conſequence of his being convicted of committing a Rape, as mentioned in our laſt. We hear he is to be hanged on the 19th of next month.

A gentleman of fortune, of one of the firſt families, and employed in one of the moſt reſpectable and important offices in this Town, had lately the misfortune to have a veſſel and 59 pipes of wine ſeized, and the latter condemned and ſold at public auction. Not long after, the perſon, who was the reputed informer in this affair, appeared on the gentleman's wharf, and being aſked if he had any buſineſs there, gave anſwer in the negative, on which he was deſired to depart, but he peremptorily refuſed: Upon which the gentleman, after receiving repeated inſults, beat him off the wharf. On this he was indicted by the grand Jury, and the honorable Juſtices of the ſuperior court, laſt week, thought proper to fine him twenty pounds, and to find ſecurity for his good behavior for one year.

One Samuel Fellows (who was lately whipped for ſtealing) a year or two ſince, being then commander of an armed cutter, came aſhore at Cape-Ann, with a number of men under his command, armed with piſtols, loaded with bullets and buck ſhot, fired at a number of people on the wharf, the contents of which going into the ſide of a ſtore but about 3 inches from where ſome of the people ſtood; at the ſame time reſcuing a priſoner from Juſtice; and after uttering the moſt profane imprecations damning the King's officer, and firing a piſtol at the people with his own hand, ſaid Fellows carried off the priſoner in triumph. The honorable Juſtices of the ſuperior court, for this crime, thought proper to order him to pay a fine of ſix pounds, and to truſt to his honor as ſufficient ſecurity for his future good behavior.

[Several of our Cuſtomers having expreſſed a Curioſity to ſee the Piece ſigned Mucius Schævola mentioned in our laſt, which was publiſhed in the Maſſachuſetts Spy, of the 14th of November, and gave ſo much Offence to the Governor of that Province, and ſome of the Council, that they ſent Summonſes to the ſuppoſed Author and the Printer of the ſaid Paper, to appear before them, who diſregarding the Orders, and refuſing to attend, and the Counſil, after a Day's Debate, not agreeing to a Motion, made by ſome of their Body to commit the Printer, &c to Priſon for Contempt, they (the Council) afterwards unanimouſly agreed to adviſe the Governor to Order the King's Attorney to proſecute the Printer at Common Law. The following is a Copy of the Piece complained of, viz.]

For the MASSACHUSETTS SPY. Nov. 14.

IF it be true, that the exceptionable clauſe in the late proclamation, was not propoſed by Mr. Hutchinſon, but by ONE of the council; yet there it ſtands, and is nevertheleſs exceptionable, and muſt reflect diſhonour ſomewhere, even though it were inadvertently inſerted.

It is not denied, even by Mr. Hutchinſon's friends, that the other part of the proclamation was drafted by him: We may conſider him then as triumphing over us as SLAVES or perſons who have no priveledges; and though he well knew it would be a piece of mockery, to lead us to the throne of grace, with thankſgiving for the preſervation of privileges, which, by his means, in part, we have been deprived of; yet he thought fit, with the advice of ſix, out of twenty-eight of his council, (if he by HIS CRAFT, could make it their act) to inſert it.

We have need of the wiſdom of ſerpents who are concerned with ſuch rulers; to be conſidered with ſuch rulers; to be conſidered by them as fools, is irritating; for fools they muſt think us, if they can imagine that we can complain of loſs of liberty in one breath, and with the next ſolemnly thank God for the preſervation of it. What account can be given for ſuch conduct, conſiſtent with common honeſty, mankind muſt judge.

It would give me pain to harbour one thought, that the ſix members, who it is ſaid voted for the inſertion of that impious paragraph, intended thereby to curry favour with the miniſtry; I cannot indulge ſuch a thought, beſides there is no danger that this people will ever receive a council appointed by the KING himſelf: And certainly it is unlikely, that if the repreſentatives of this people ſhould once adopt ſuch a ſentiment of them, that theſe men ſhould ever again be re-choſen into the council. Mr. Hutchinſon may think we are eaſy, becauſe we have ſo long waited for a redreſs of grievance; but our patience is nearly exhauſted. It cannot be that we ſhall bear much longer, to have our money forced from us.—An Engliſhman ſhould never part with a penny but by his conſent, or the conſent of his agent, or repreſentative, eſpecially as the money thus forced from us, is to hire a man to TYRANNIZE over us, whom his Maſter calls our Governor. This ſeems to be Mr. Hutchinſon's ſituation; therefore I cannot but view him as a uſurper, and abſolutely deny his juriſdiction over this people; and am of opinion, that any act of aſſembly conſented to by them, in his pretended capacity of Governor, is ipſo facto, null and void, and conſequently, not binding upon us: A ruler, independent on the people, is a monſter in government; and ſuch a one is Mr. Hutchinſon; and ſuch would George the third be, if he ſhould be rendered independent on the people of Great Britain. A Maſſachuſetts Governor, the King by compact, with this people may nominate and appoint, but not pay: For his ſupport he muſt ſtipulate with the people, and until he does, he is no legal Governor; without this, if he undertakes to rule, he is a USURPER.

It is high time then, my countrymen, that this matter was enquired into, if we have no conſtitutional Governor, it is time we had one. If the pretended Governor, or Lieut. Governor, by being independent on us for their ſupport, are rendered incapable of completing acts of government, it is time, I ſay, that we had a lawful one to preſide, or that the pretended Governors, were diſmiſſed and PUNISHED as USURPERS, and that the council, according to charter, ſhould take upon themſelves the government of this province.

MUCIUS SCÆVOLA.

BOSTON, November 25.

We hear, that conſiderable bets have been laid, with great odds, that before the 10th day of May next, letters will be received from the miniſtry, ſignifying his ——— entire approbation of Mr. Hutchinſon's proclamation for a thankſgiving, conceived in terms ſo much to the honour of God, his people, and true religion; and that it is his ——— will and pleaſure, that the ſame be recorded in the minutes of council, in which they reſolve, that the piece ſigned Junius Americanus is "falſe, groundleſs and malicious," and that Mr. Hutchinſon, will at the ſame time, receive orders from the miniſtry, to negative ſuch of the council as were then preſent, and did not vote for it, in caſe they ſhould be again choſen.

Extract of a letter from a Gentleman in London, to his Friend in this Town, dated Sept. 22, 1771.

"— The Commiſſary of Virginia is now here with a view of proſecuting the ſcheme of an American Epiſcopate:—You will conſider, Sir, in your wiſdom whether any meaſures on your ſide, may contribute to counteract this dangerous innovation. —Regarding it as threatening the ſubverſion both of our civil and religious Liberties, it ſhall meet with all the oppoſition in my power"——

PHILADELPHIA, November 28.

Capt. Peter, from Cadiz, informs, that while he lay there the Queen of Spain was delivered of a Prince Royal, for which event there were illuminations and great rejoicings at that place for three days: That the ſhip St. Francis, Capt. Butler, belonging to Briſtol, homeward bound from Cadiz, took fire off Cape St. Mary, the day after ſhe ſailed, and was entirely burnt to the water's edge; the Captain and crew ſaved themſelves in their boat, and got back to Cadiz; that five ſail of tranſports were arrived there from La Vera Cruz and the Havanna, with troops, and more daily expected; that they were fitting out the Flota with all expedition, to go under convoy of a 74 gun ſhip; that there was only one man of war of 80 guns at that place, which lately arrived from Carthagena, and was laid up; and that about the firſt of October an Engliſh frigate paſſed by there, with his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter on board, bound up the Mediterranean.—On the 15th inſtant, in Lat. 37, Long. 72, he ſpoke a brig from New-York, 8 days out, with wheelbarrows on her quarters, but could not learn the maſter's name, or where ſhe was bound.

Capt. Dyſon from Antigua, the 22d inſt. in lat. 37, 20, long. 72, fell in with the ſloop Ruth, from Jamaica for New-London, out 40 days, belonging to Boſton; to whom he ſpared ſome fire-wood.

The brig Dolphin, Capt. Shewell, of this port, bound to Amſterdam, was drove aſhore in the Texel, in a hard gale of wind, about the 8th of September; the people, and moſt of the ſails and rigging ſaved, but the veſſel and cargo it is feared will be loſt.

NEW-YORK, December 5.

The Sampſon, and the Roſe, two fine Ships were launched at the Slip Yards laſt Saturday Afternoon; the firſt was built for Mr. Franklin, and the ſecond for Meſſrs. Read and Yates.—We hear they are both deſigned for the London Trade, and that Capt. Miller is to have the Roſe, and Capt. Cooper the Sampſon.

Capt. Gallatian from Newfoundland informs, that a few Days before he came in, he ſpoke the Ship Tryon, Capt Farmer, from this Port, bound to Briſtol, all well on board.

Sunday laſt in the Forenoon, an excellent Charity Sermon was preached at Trinity Church, by the Rev. Mr. Inglis, when a handſome Collection was made for the Uſe of the Charity Scholars; and next Sunday in the Forenoon another Charity Sermon will be preached at St. George's, for the ſame laudable Purpoſe.

The ſame Day, a Sermon was preached in the Old Preſbyterian Church in this City, and a liberal Collection made for the Uſe of the Poor of ſaid Church.

On Thurſday laſt, three o'clock, A. M. died at Morriſſania, Henry Binkes, aged one hundred and one years.—As his mother was not bleſſed with a family name he took that of his ſire, a diſtinguiſhed ſea officer in the ſervice of the States General, who diſpoſſeſſed the Engliſh of this province.—With ſubmiſſion to the wiſe ſervants of the public, we beg leave to obſerve, that he faithfully performed every truſt repoſed in him by three ſucceſſive generations, and ſerved maſters whom when infants he had carried in his arms.—As he was never engaged in any of the numerous ſocial connections, —he was no bad judge, no corrupt Magiſtrate, no iniquitous, guardian, but poſſeſſed the ſimple and domeſtick virtues of diligence, faithfulneſs and ſobriety.——Bluſh O Liberty and Science, when you behold theſe amiable qualifications ſhining with diſtinguiſhed luſtre in the conduct of an ignorant ſlave!——Like the antient Patriarchs, he lived to a good old age, and was the father of near two hundred ſouls, comprehended in four generations, many of which left the ſtage before him.——He was a good ſteward of few talents, —We humbly hope therefore, that he is now rewarded with many, by the great Maſter, Judge, and Father of all.

We hear, from the Nine Partners, in Dutches County, that about 3 Weeks ago, in the dead Time of Night, the Store Houſe of Meſſrs. James and Ezra Reed, of that Place, (Merchants of very conſiderable and extenſive Buſineſs, who are Brothers and Partners) by ſome unknown Accident took Fire, and was entirely conſumed, together with a large Quantity of Goods of all Kinds, lately received,—a large Quantity of Country Produce, and all their Books of Account, &c. the whole ſuppoſed to be to the Value of 14 or £ 15,000.——The Store was ſituated between their two Houſes, about 40 Rods from each, Mr. James Read being from home, his Wife was firſt alarmed by the Light of the Flames ſhining in at the Windows, and ſoon after the Family of the other Brother, by the Exploſion of the Gun Powder in the Store. The moſt probable Conjecture is, that the Store had been robb'd, and ſet on Fire to avoid Suſpicion. The Fire had been carefully ſecured late in the Evening, and no one left to guard the Store, except a faithful Dog, who was burnt in it.

POET'S CORNER.

A Request to the DIVINE BEING. By a Lady.

THOU great and sacred Lord of all,
Of Life the only Spring;
Creator of unnumber'd Worlds,
Immensely glorious King!
Whose Image shakes the staggering Mind,
Beyond Conception high;
Crown'd with Omnipotence, and veil'd
With dark Eternity.
Drive from the Confines of my Heart
Impenitence and Pride,
Nor let me in erroneous Paths
With thoughtless Idiots glide.
Whate'er thy all-discerning Eye
Sees for thy Creature fit.
I'll bless the Good, and to the Ill
Contentedly submit.
With humane Pleasure let me view
The Prosperous and the Great;
Malignant Envy let me fly,
With odious Self-Conceit.
Let not Despair, nor curs'd Revenge,
Be to my Bosom known;
O give me Tears for others Wo,
And Patience for my own.
Feed me with necessary Food,
I ask not Wealth nor Fame;
But give me Eyes to view thy Works,
And Sense to praise thy Name.
And when thy Wisdom thinks it fit,
To shake my troubled Mind,
Preserve my Reason with my Griefs,
And let me not repine.
May my still Day obscurely pass,
Without Remorse or Care;
And let me, for the parting Hour,
My trembling Ghost prepare.

PROPOSALS

FOR ESTABLISHING

A Land-Office in the City of Albany.

WHEREAS many gentlemen residing at New-York, and elsewhere, are possessors of considerable tracts of land in the county of Albany, which probably they may be inclined to sell or let; and whereas persons intending to purchase or become tenants, are frequently at a loss to discover the proprietors of such tracts which they would choose to settle upon; and often after having obtained all necessary information, they find it very inconvenient and expensive to make a personal application: The subscribers therefore propose to open a LAND-OFFICE in the city of Albany, on the following plan, which if properly encouraged, will be of general utility to the public, and produce an emolument to the undertakers adequate to their assiduity.

CONDITIONS.

I. That every proprietor of lands in the county of Albany, who may have occasion to employ them, will be pleased to furnish a map of the lands, and instructions containing the conditions of sale, or terms on which they will lease.

II. In case of sales, they will negotiate the whole at the rate of one per cent. provided they have the drawing of the deeds, or two per cent. if the deeds are drawn by others: Their charge for drawing a lease, will be One Pound, and as much for a mortgage; to be paid as the parties shall agree.

III. They will have all mortgages recorded, charging the mortgage with the clerk's fee only.

IV. In leting lands they expect no other reward than the profits arising from drawing the leases; which they will execute at One Pound for the lease, and as much for the counterpart.

V. Lands sold or let, thro' their agency, and which require to be surveyed by them, they will engage to perform it in the most exact manner, and with all possible dispatch; the expence to be paid either by the grantor or grantee, as shall be agreed upon: And in order to prevent any disputes that may arise concerning the expence, they expect to be allowed for the surveyor, two chain bearers, a marker and flag carrier, Two Pounds per day, they finding themselves in every thing.

VI. That any person intending to purchase, or rent lands, may have the privilege to examine their books and maps, paying Two Shillings for every hour's examination.

VII. Original plans will be returned as soon as copies can be taken of them, and the subscribers will do every thing in their power to prevent wastes on the lands of which they have the selling or leting.

They hope they may be allowed to declare, that they are competent to the business; that they understand the art of surveying both in theory and practice; that they are capable of mathematically demonstrating whether a survey has been truly made or not, and to discover the contents by the pen, only. They assure every gentleman who shall be pleased to employ them, that they are determined to act with the strictest impartiality and integrity, and by their assiduous application to the general business of the office, endeavour to render this institution important and beneficial to the public. 6 9

LONDON,

Sept. 21. By a Dutch ship that is arrived off Dover, from Denia, we have advice, that the Spaniards have ten ships of the line, four frigates, and several store-ships, lying in the harbours there, all ready to sail at a few hours notice; and a regiment of soldiers daily exercising, which are to be embarked as soon as orders come for their sailing. The Captain further says, that they will not admit an English ship into their harbours.

A foreign Gentleman of distinction now in London (and who appears very conversant in the secret history of French politics) lately in discourse, related, That in the days of Richlieu and Mazarine (and perhaps not less in succeeding times) it was not unusual in many castles and places of residence of these Ministers of State, to have secret traps, or what was called les oubliettes, which were horrid contrivances for such as the Minister, either through enmity or policy, meant to destroy, or get out of the way; knowing that "Dead men tell no tails." These infernal engines of destruction were so formed, that after dismission, perhaps very politely, from the Minister, the unhappy victim was, by the different turn of a door, sent down a different staircase than what he came up; then of a sudden, when about half way, by means of springs, it opened, and let the devoted wretch into a well, or pit, several hundred fathoms deep, where he never was heard of more. The relater observed, that many of those wells or pitts, are now existing; and on search being made therein, not long since, among numbers of skeletons, or bones, have been found divers watches, snuff-boxes, money, and valuable effects, no doubt belonging to those victims of such cruel enmity, and vile policy.—Think of this ye heedless Sons of Liberty, and of the generous cause, and let it not ever perish in your hands, or ye may in after times be made to pass through the oubliettes too!—The same intelligencer added, that it was not uncommon for such Ministers, having some desperate act to execute (such, for example, as burning stores in an enemy's port) to seek out some needy or greedy wretch, fit for the purpose to promise him mountains on the accomplishment of the design of his villanies; but to give him but little earnest, or present pay, and then, if successful, instead of his reward to make him, alas! to pass through les oubliettes, or perhaps, returning, on board a ship ordered to bring the villain back, ordering him to be dispatched by the way, throwing him overboard with a stone about his neck, on the same pious principle viz. that "Dead men tell no tales. Think of this, and who will then doubt of the possibility of burning the stores lately at Portsmouth by our antient rivals, or "old friends, old foes!"

Mr. Alderman Bridgen has declined serving the office of Lord Mayor for the year ensuing, in case he should be returned to the Court of Aldermen with Mr. Crosby.—Yesterday he addressed the Livery in the following words: "Gentlemen, I am truly very sensible of the great honour intended me, which lays me under the deepest obligations, and I return you my most sincere thanks.--But my age and infirmities are such, that I am utterly incapable of acting in any office or employment whatever; that this is the case with me, I do most solemnly affirm."

As Alderman Bridgen has declined standing candidate for the Mayoralty, Alderman Trecothick (as we are informed) will be nominated by the Livery to that important office.

One day last week a great place in the Ex—se was sold to a certain Alderman of this city for the sum of 15 000l. hard money.

A vacancy of Chaplain to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland having happened within these few days, the place, we hear, has been offered to the Rev. Mr Jackson, provided he will drop any further prosecution of the Marshal of the Kings bench prison, for firing blunderbusses amongst his prisoners.

It is said there will be more masquerades the ensuing winter than has been within the space of these twenty years past. They will be frequent in the Winter-Ranelagh in Oxford road, when open, which will be a standard of imitation for other public places of less note; so that if the youth of both sexes are not thoroughly perverted, it will be a miracle indeed.

Mr Stephens's considerations on Imprisonment for debt, have lately been found in Lord Mansfield's study.

We hear that Mrs. Stephens, wife of James Stephens, is, by the particular recommendation of Lord Mansfield, to have an establishment in some department under the queen.

Dublin, Sept. 14 About three o'clock in the morning, a fire broke out in the house of Mr. Powel, hatter, in Little Ship-street, which entirely consumed the same. To add to the affliction of this unhappy family, three of their children were destroyed by the flames.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.

We hear from Arundel, that on the 4th of September, a child about 8 years of age, playing with some other children in the chamber of the pot-ash works in that place, unfortunately stepped on a board that was nail'd to the under side of the joists, which gave way, and she fell into a kettle boiling with pot-ash, and expired in a few hours.

Last thursday evening, pretty late, two young women, tayloresses, coming home across King-street, the foremost carrying a lanthorn, was stopped by a man of war's man, who tried to wrest the light from her with one hand while he seized her by the neck with the other. She struck him in the face with the hand that was at liberty, which he returned with his fist upon the ear, till he knocked her down on the pavement; the other young woman then attacked him with her lay-board, and at length reaching a blow on his head bro't him in his turn to the ground; the young women having made an outcry betimes in the engagement, and people gathering round, the hero marched off, leaving the one he first engaged much hurt, and bleeding from the ear he first struck her upon.

Oxford November 1, 1771.

This day about ten o'clock in the forenoon, the dwelling-house of Doctor Alexander Campbell, of Oxford, took fire, by one of his apprentices breaking a bottle of oil of turpentine which held about seven gallons, he taking ashes supposed to be cold, to clean it up, it took fire violently, run to other bottles which burst, and burst open a door where the Doctor's wife lay, as she had lain in but a few days, who immediately was carried out with her bed and bedding, which was all that was saved, except a very few trifles; his books and all his accounts were intirely consumed, as also a very fine assortment of drugs, newly imported from England. This house was fitted and finished to his mind, which he enjoyed but a few weeks—and then this cruel master deprived him thereof not leaving him or any of his family a second shirt, &c. to their backs. In this deplorable state this poor man is, which it's hoped will excite the compassion of Christian friends, especially those of the Faculty. His loss is computed to be 1000l. lawful money.
